years. When he calls for Pa, that he's nev-er saw, she sings this in her tears.
CHORUS
When this cruel war is o-ver my darl-ing, when the bat-tle flags a-gain are furled, When the na-tions seem to tire of this slaughter, and the broth-er-hood of man rules the world. When no more the shot and shells are fly-ing, and tri-ump-hant waves the red, white and blue. If I've not been numbered with the dy-ing, I'll re-turn to our ba-by dear and you.
