
THE BLUE STAR TURNED TO SILVER THEN TO GOLD

WORDS BY

MORRIS H. ABELL

MUSIC BY

JAMES G. ELLIS

Published by
MORRIS H. ABELL
10 S. FOURTH ST.
AURORA, ILL.

The Blue Star Turned To Silver, Then To Gold ³

Words by MORRIS H. ABELL

Music by JAMES G. ELLIS

Moderato
mf

A moth-er clasps her on-ly boy,— bid-ding him good-by, He's Your son died like a he-ro brave, the mes-sage farth-er read, He an-swering to his coun-try's call for men,— Her last words were, God bless you son, he tried to save his com-rades from the Hun,— His last words were, tell moth-er dear I've brave and true she sighed, She knew not if she'd e'er see him a-done my best he said, Then closed his eyes his work on earth was

Copyright, 1918, by Morris H. Abell, 10 So. Fourth St., Anarora, Ill.
International Copyright Secured

All Rights Reserved

4

gain, _____ One day there came a mes-sage from the Cap-tain "O-ver there," Your done, _____ He ne'er for-got those pre-cious words,his moth-er spoke with pride, Be son has died of wounds in France some-where, — The poor old moth-er knelt be-side the brave and true,she of-ten to him told, — A moth-er prayed God bless her son who ser-vice flag and told, How the Blue star turned to sil-ver then to gold. _____

for his coun-try died, The. Blue star turned to sil-ver then to gold. _____

CHORUS

The Blue star that hung in the win-dow, — it told of a boy o-ver

p-f

there, — The mes-sage then said he was wound-ed and died fight-ing in France some- where, — There was a look of sor-row — when this mes-sage to her was told, — For the Blue star that had turned to sil - ver, since then had turned to gold. The gold. —

