©CLE 118536
MAR -2 1918

I'll Come Back to You Dear Mother

OR FILL A HERO'S GRAVE

WORDS BY Wallace A. Lee.

MUSIC BY Frank J. Ford.

PUBLISHED BY
WALLACE A. LEE.
627 CONWAY STREET. BALTIMORE. MD.

M1646
.F

I'll Come Back To You, Dear Mother,

Or Fill A Hero's Grave.

Words by WALLACE A. LEE.

Music by
FRANK J. FORD.

Andante moderato.

Piano.

mf

In a lit - tle coun - try vil - lage as the sun rose bright and clear, A
In the lit - tle coun - try vil - lage that dear moth - er old and gray, Is

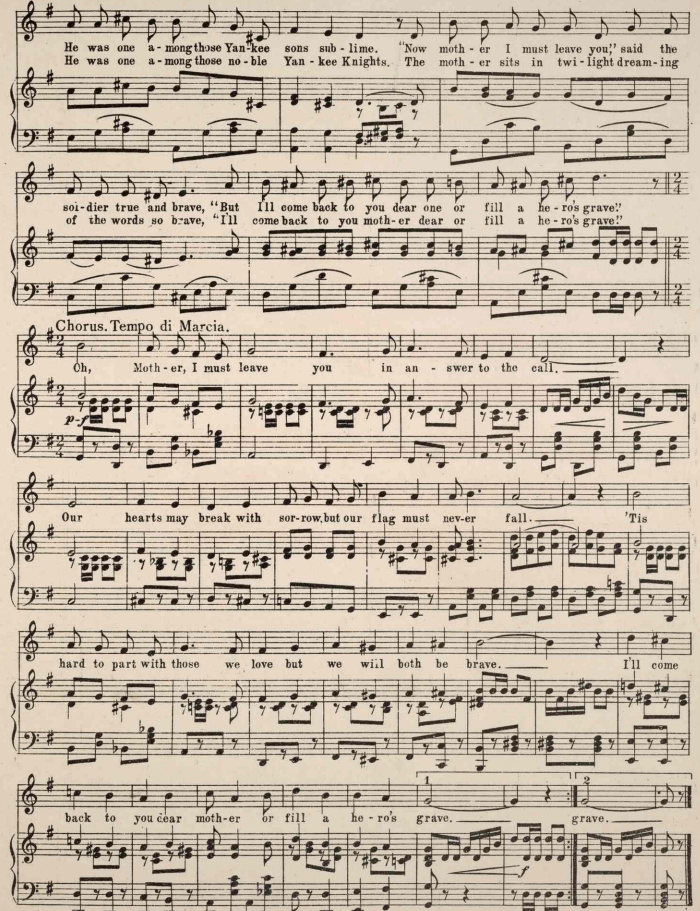
p sol - dier boy was bid - ding fare - well to moth - er dear. His wait - ing for her sol - dier boy so ma-ny miles a - way. But coun-try's flag had called him to de - fend its lib - er - ty, And face the storm of bat - tle o'er the on the far off bat - tle-field the pale moon slow-ly rose, And looked up - on him deep in death's re-

sea. Just out - side the cot - tage door there stood the long brown line.
pose. He had died a he - ro in the thick - est of the fight.

Copyright MCMXVIII by Wallace A. Lee, 627 W. Conway St., Baltimore, Md.



He was one a - mong those Yan-kee sons sub - lime. "Now moth - er I must leave you," said the
He was one a - mong those no - ble Yan - kee Knights. The moth - er sits in twi - light dream - ing soi - dier true and brave, "But I'll come back to you dear one or fill a he - ro's grave!"
of the words so brave, "I'll come back to you moth - er dear or fill a he - ro's grave!"
Chorus. Tempo di Marcia.
Oh, Moth - er, I must leave you in an - swer to the call.
p
Our hearts may break with sor - row, but our flag must nev - er fall. 'Tis hard to part with those we love but we will both be brave. I'll come back to you dear moth - er or fill a he - ro's grave. grave.
1
2
f

427424