There's A Debt of Honor

Words by Miss LALEE LAC. QUAN

Music by LEO FRIEDMAN

There's a debt of hon- or that our gold can ne'er pay, In the coun- try of the Here's a tear for the mound and the lit- tle dark cross, 'Neath the moon- light, out in brave and free; There's a thrill of love, from the "No Man's Land?" Here's a cheer for him, who re-bot- tom of our hearts, For the boys who went a - cross the sea, turns to home- land whole, We re- joice to clasp a - gain his hand.

CHORUS

May the red stripes turn to rust, and the white ap-pear as dust, And the blue stars turn to ash - en gray; E'er our hearts turn cold to the sac - ri - fice un - told of the soldiers of the U. S. A., Let us shout for joy, that the vic - to - ry is won! And the flag of Glo - ry has a mean - ing new, We have christ - ened it a - gain; In the blood of Free - dom's men, Our dear flag the old Red, White and Blue.
