A - mer - i - ca stands for freedom, — Yes, a freedom that can't be bought, God loves all his might-y na - tions, — And expects them to do the same,

— A - mer - i - ca stands for jus - tice, — And that's why all the I - rishmen
— The Golden Rule of the a - ges, — Is' a bout to be broken a - fought; — But why they don't give Ire - land, The freedom she gain; — The mas - ter minds of state - men, In forming a sad - ly needs, — To answer this lit - tle question, — world - wide league, — Have left out a lit - tle na - tion, —
