Somehow as I stood their in yearning, — My soul it was call - ing to God, — Oh tho'ts roam-ing hith - er and thith - er, — In search of the son who's a - way, — In scenes that are wretch-ed de - plor - ing, — While Sun - mies are thick in the fray, — A - Fa - ther in Heav - en we pray Thee, — That man be no long - er down trod, — The ser - vice for moth - er and coun - try, — He's do - ing his bit in some way, — Whe - gain I re - mem - ber my dar - ling, — The pride of my heart far a - way, — And a - an - gel then turn - ing said to me, — Look out o'er the land and the sea, — Be - hold

I heard a sweet voice call - ing, A - mer - i - ca's winning the day.
 gain I hear the voice call - ing, A - mer - i - ca's winning the day.
 our Old Glor - y she's 'fur - ling, For our troops have won vic - to - ry.

CHORUS

Sons, brothers and hus - bands are go - ing, The bu - gle call sounds far a - way, Wives, I look 'and be - hold, what a bat - tle, Is rag - ing in Eur - ope to - day, The
 The guns and the can - nons are si - lent, And we know that our vic - try's won, For moth - ers and sis - ters are sew - ing, And knit - ting by night and by day, While in Sum - mers are charg - ing like cat - tle, Who's fur - y is clear - ing the way, Their guns this hor - rid vis - ion is chang - ing, In - to a most beau - te - ous one, And France true mar - tyrs are dy - ing, If need be to set - tle this fray, I and their bay - o - nets rat - tle, 'Gainst Kal - ser - lites try - ing to stay, When the an - gel a - gain 'is point - ing, For out o'er the land and the sea, Old hear once a - gain a voice call - ing, A - mer - i - ca's win - ning the day. a - gain I hear the voice call - ing, A - mer - i - ca's win - ning the day.

 Glo - ry is 'fared, our troops march - ing, Back home to the land of the free.
