

©RE124704
MAY -6 1918

THE BEAST

Words by

H. L. EASTMAN

Music by

LEO FRIEDMAN

NORTH AMERICAN
MUSIC PUBLISHING Co.
119 No. Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

la - bor 'twas hurled, On a world that has long been de - ceived. — world ve - ry dear, It nev - er nev - er will come a gain. —

3

For the world will be purged from the greed and the lust
 Of arrogant Czars and kings
 And nations will rise from out of the dust
 And the woe and distress that war brings.

4

For the Beast shall be laid as all others have been
 That have lived their short span of life
 And the world shall attain a much higher plain
 After this horrible strife.

5

For the time is at hand, when our Mothers shall gain
 A place in the councils of men
 And their years of suffering of strife and of pain
 Shall show in its influence then.

6

And the nations all, both great and small
 Will agree on a true Christian plan
 And Peace will reign and there will be no call
 In the future for men to kill men.

7

And the creed of all nations shall be in that day
 To live and conform to God's plan
 So kneel with me now and let us all pray
 For the death of the Beast and his clan.

431156