As we are Though we are still a - cross the o - cean, And have fought to set men march - ing on in bat - tle, Far a - cross the dark blue free; Now our thoughts are turn - ing home - ward To the deep, And we'll leave a great man - y com - rades Here be - thing that used to be. Where we will be with our neath the sod to sleep. But we all will rit. a tempo

sweet-hearts, For we know that they are true, And we will well re-mem-ber That their hearts were ev-er true, And we come buried with great hon-ors, Hold-ing high the Red, White and Blue.

buried them with hon-ors, Wrapped in the Red, White and Blue.

cross the sea, Just a line, just a word From where they suffered and bled and died To save our land and lib-er-ty. lib-er-ty.
