Bar-ney Car-ney prom-ised hed be true to Mol-ly O, The Bar-ney wrote a let-ter home the day the war was through, He

§ Till Ready

day he went a - way to war a - bout a year a - go; In ev - ry note that start-ed off with 'Mol - ly, dear, Im com - ing home to you; He did - nt say what Bar-ney wrote he called her 'Ma-cher - ie,' She read the name and said withshame:'this week or day, nor did he say what year, And Mol - ly O, said, 'wur - ra - woe, it's is - nt meant for me.' All the neigh-bors no-ticed there were tear-drops in her all a joke I fear!— People said hed have to wait un - til the ships come eye: And when they asked her how was Bar-ney, she'd be-gin to cry:— back; And Mol-ly said, "why wait for them, why dont he take a hack?—"

Chorus

"My Bar-ney lies o-ver the o-cean,— My Bar-ney lies o-ver the sea; Sure he said he went to war to help the wom-en,— And I think he's helped him-self to two or three: Now hes got a lit-tle girl in Bel-gium, and one in Pa-ree, And I know the lit-tle things he tells 'em, when theyre on his knee, Sure my Bar-ney lies o-ver the o - cean. Just the way he lied to me!" "My me!"

p-f
