

NOV 16 1915 ✓

©GCE437109 ✓
↖

IT'S THE GIRL IN THE OVERALLS ✓

Music by John P. Hansen. ✓

Words by Frederic J. Long. ✓

Carl Fischer, New York.

No. 4—12 lines.

Intro

f

Voice

Tho' we of Ten Suis the praise of all our gallant fighting men

Tho' we of Ten Suis the praise of all our gallant fighting men

Tho' we of Ten Suis the praise of all our gallant fighting men

Tho' we of Ten Suis the praise of all our gallant fighting men

Tho' we of Ten Suis the praise of all our gallant fighting men

Chorus

It's the girl in the overalls

Music by John P. Hansen

IT'S THE GIRL IN THE OVERALLS.

(By Frederic J. Long)

Tho we often sing the praise of all our gallant fighting men,
Who bravely fought our war on land and on the sea;
And we all agree too much cannot be said about their deeds,
For they were brave and fearless making history.
If there is another who deserves our gratitude as well,
In risking life to keep our boys in shot and shell,
And who firmly stood behind the man who fought behind the gun,
And who never thought of quitting till the war was really won:

CHORUS

It's the girl in the overalls,
It's the girl in the overalls;
Tho she toils the whole day long,
For her country she is strong.
She there Freedom's cause to serve,
And she goes where duty calls;
She is there when it comes to nerve,
Is the girl in the overalls.

When our country wanted help on vital ammunition work,
It called for patriotic girls to win the war,
And they came in droves from ev'rywhere to work for Uncle Sam,
And there were secretary-stenogs by the score;
But he wanted brave courageous girls with nerve enough to fight,
To put on overalls and flirt with dynamite.-
If there's medals for the brave who fight where danger ever lurks,
Who ought to get a medal in the ammunition works?

Johnny Bull,

