Lafayette-We are here!

1st. Verse. They sank the Lusitania and laughed quite heartily, "America won't fight" they said, while they shook themselves with glee,

But they'll have not long to wait, while they sing their hymn of hate, hear the assembly loud and clear?

2nd Verse "We'll be in Paris soon or a'Berlin," said the hell lord boastingly, "They shall not pass",
The Frenchmen cried, as they held admirably,

We don't mind the cannon roar, we are coming more and more, hear the assembly loud and clear?

Chorus.

When we heard the voices calling Uncle Sammy, over there, over there,

We just started getting ready, but so many, feared we could not do our share,

Here we come, here we come, hear the bugle and drum and we warn the doubting Fritzies to beware,

We can hear a voice that's asking, are we coming,

Lafayette, we are here!
