Glo - ry" may not fall. Lift high your head, as you cause so great and true. A - cross the sea, you have march a - long In - to trench-es of "No Man's Land," For gone to fight For the free - dom that is worth while, Some - rit.
a tempo
He who watch-es o - ver all, Holds your des - ti - ny in His hand. where in France, we know not where, But we sent you a - way with a smile. Oh, rit.
you be - long to the Sam - mies, You're a he - ro big and true. You'll win, you're sure to win And we're might - y proud of you, When war is o - ver, you'll come back, Your du - ty no - bly done, To

loved ones wait - ing here And the vic - t'ry you have won.
