1. We hail the powr of the peo - ple's choice, Safe - ly guard - ed by great
2. All na - tions are re - pre - sent - ed there, A peace par - ley of men
3. E - qual - i - ty grow - ing in all hu - man rights, With rap - tured — free - doms spokes - man's voice, A loy - al free - dom thrown a - round the earth com - ing from where, Love and lib - er - ty in home of the brave, bright - est lights Stand - ing on ram - parts of un - i - ver - sal peace,

In league of na - tions, with God giv - en birth, Dwell - ing in a school of Shed its blood that De - moc - ra - cy be saved. Man - y ban - ners wave mid Si - lent - ly stream - ing with gen - tle flow of ease. Oh! Prince of — peace be - pur - i - tan spir - it, And trained with Col - um - bia's lib - er - al wit.

shot — and shell, Where stands the Stars and stripes a sto - ry to tell.
hold — thy beau - ty! Let christ - ian faith — be un - fail - ing du - ty,

Oh! what gol - den stream of ma - ny joys Life and lib - er - ty sail - ing seas, free of spoils.
 Oh! let lib - er - ty reign from a - bove Let wise rev - el - a - tion be God giv - en love.
 Let un - tir - ing hours re - veal man - ly strength And - lib - er - ty flow - at full - est length.

CHORUS

Oh! there's a light in the East gleam - ing, Heart strings a - cross the o - cean stream - ing, Sun - beams on glar - ing ruin - a - tion yawn - ing

And a new day in glo - ry is dawn - ing While mil - lions watch the clouds scat - ter And the peace con - f'rence gath - er.
