VOICE

Some-where be-neath the pale moon-light A trans-port sails the foam, — It Some-where Old Glo-ry's fly-ing high, O'er the heads of Old Ber-lin, — Our bears a car-go that we love, Our boys from Home Sweet Home. — And boys who an-swered to the call, Are home-ward bound a-gain. — Sweet some-where shines the gold-en sun, It cheers them on their way, — With are the mem-ries which guide them, As they sail on the o-cean to-day, — Their tears of joy, we'll greet our boys, And to them proud-ly say: — hearts are light as they em-bark, For their Home-land far a-way. —

CHORUS

Oh he-ros from the bat-tle - field, Of for - eign-lands a - far, — We owe to you the sun-shine, — And the light from out each star. — How can we ev - er pay you — For the free-dom that you gave, — How can we thank the he-ros. Who died our flag to save. — Oh sol-diers who have sac-ri - ficed And fought a cross the foam, — We thank our God that you He spared, And bro't you safe-ly Home. —
