 Now we all know the Kai-ser had a dream that someday he would rule the world, He would claim all the na-tions he has fought so long and hard; There is Austria and Russia and Italy too he would claim for e-ter-ni-ty. And there is France and Eng-land he would rule supreme And he'd claim the rights to all the sea and what a-bout Amer-i-ca, Well in case the bad goes to worse the boys of Amer-i-ca, will stop this ty-ran-ny We will play the march of the Kaisers funeral, and the stars and stripes will wave o'er the world in peace for ev - er more.

(PARODY)

Now we have states-men ev-'ry-where and why-not send some o-ver there We will send Lafollette to German-y, for his heart is there. And Bill-y Bryan we would send to Nor-way for he's neu-tral you know, And Ted-dy we would send to Eng-land For he's the on-ly man in the world to-day. Who can throw the bull and make it stay but in case the bad goes to worse, The boys of A-mer-i-ca will stop this ty-ran-ny. We will play the march of the Kai-sers fun-eral, And the stars and stripes will wave o'er the world in peace for ev-er more.
