PREFACE.

When the weary traveler after a long journey has at length arrived at his destination, he lays down his burden and for a while reflects upon the varying scenes through which he has just passed. Likewise the "Princes" are mindful of the privileges and privations of their forefathers, who were ever ready with a willing hand to preserve this nation from danger, that it might enjoy prosperity and peace.

It is believed that this little volume will furnish information concerning the war record of the "Princes" which can be obtained in no other single publication extant, and in placing it before the public, we hope that no critic will be so unjust as to compare it with the vast and eloquent unwritten history of the "Princes." While the author has spared no pains or expense in order to obtain only that which is authentic and reliable, yet, perhaps, occasional errors of minor consequence may be found. Any one who may discover such will confer a favor by sending any corrections or additions to the author and publisher. We present this volume, however, with confidence, as we feel that records contained herein are thus preserved which otherwise would be lost, and also many "Princes" are brought to notice who have hitherto been unknown.

Deeds of daring, bravery and devotion by our forefathers now ennoble the records of nearly every state, in which every descendant should feel a natural pride, and it cannot but be prized as a record of ancestral sacrifice by the generations which are to follow, when grandchildren shall cluster around the chair of the gray-haired volunteer and listen while he tells once more how he carried the "old flag," or the musket, at Gettysburg; and when the venerable dame shall resort to the old bureau, fragrant with sacred memories, and gaze again through the mist, as a tear drops from the moistened eye, on that cherished blue coat worn by one who went to battle with her blessing, and died joyfully that the nation might have a second birth.

That the rising generations of "Princes" may emulate the bravery, devotion and patriotism so characteristic of the lives of our forefathers, is the wish of

THE AUTHOR.

Notes on the Service of 1775.

ARMS AND ACCOUTREMENTS.—At the special April session of the Legislature, when the first regiments were called out, it was enacted that the enlisted men should be furnished with good firearms belonging to the colony, if they were unable to furnish themselves; and, if they found their own arms, to be paid ten shillings for the use of such arms, and in case more arms should be required they were to be impressed from householders not enrolled. Ten shillings was to be awarded to all who offered guns, bayonets and cartouch boxes to the soldiers. It was also resolved at the same time that three thousand stand of arms be procured for the colony, of the following dimensions, to wit: “the length of the barrel, three feet ten inches; the diameter of the bore, from inside to inside, three-quarters of an inch; the length of the blade of the bayonet, fourteen inches; the length of the socket, four inches and a quarter; that the barrels be of suitable thickness, with iron ramrods and a spring in the lowest loop to secure the ramrod, a good, substantial lock, and a good stock, well mounted with brass and marked with the name or initial letters of the maker’s name.” Colony Records, Vol. XIV, p. 420. Officers wore swords or “hangers,” as then commonly called.

SOLDIERS’ RATIONS.—At the May session, the rations for the troops were fixed as follows: Three-fourths of a pound of pork or one pound of beef, one pound of bread or flour, and three pints of beer to each man per day; beef to be fresh two days in a week; also a half-pint of rice or a pint of Indian meal, six ounces of butter and three pints of peas or beans each man per week. Soldiers on fatigue duty were to be allowed one gill of rum each per day, and at no other time. Milk, candles, soap, molasses, vinegar, coffee, chocolate, sugar, tobacco, and vegetables in season, were to be provided subject to the order of general and field officers. After the troops became Continental, the rations as authorized by Congress were not as liberal, either in quantity or variety, as the Colony allowance.

PAY OF OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS.—At the April session the following was established as the pay per calendar month for officers and enlisted men.

Major General,	£20.0s	Quarter Master,	£3.0s
Brigadier “	17.0	Chaplain,	6.0
Colonel,	15.0	Surgeon,	7.1
Lieut. Colonel,	12.0	Surgeon’s Mate,	4.0
Major,	10.0	Sergeant,	2.8
Captain,	6.0	Corporal,	2.4
Lieutenant,	4.0	Fifer,	2.4
Ensign,	3.0	Drummer,	2.4
Adjutant,	5.1	Private,	2.0

UNIFORMS AND CAMP EQUIPAGE.—The troops of 1775 were generally without uniforms. They marched in citizen’s clothes, with blankets and knapsacks. A few exceptions are however noted, such as Captain Chester’s Weathersfield Company, which was clothed “wholly in blue, turned up with red,” and Captain Arnold’s Company of Governor’s Guards, New Haven, in Lexington Alarm. Individual officers provided themselves with uniforms, but their rank was distinguished by different colored ribbons which they were directed to wear.

Camp equipage consisted of tents or “marques” for officers, tents for soldiers, and tin and brass kettles, iron pots, frying pans, wooden bowls, and quart cups for company cooking and “messes.” Each company was allowed one cart or wagon.

REGIMENTAL STANDARDS.—It was enacted by the Legislature that the eight regiments of '75 should be distinguished by flags of different colors, as follows: 1st regiment yellow; 2nd regiment blue; 3rd regiment scarlet; 4th regiment crimson; 5th regiment white; 6th regiment azure; 7th regiment blue (?); 8th regiment orange.

GEORGIA.

Office of Adjutant General,
Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. F. A. Prince,
Danielson, Conn.

Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 8th inst. asking for the record of service of all persons named "PRINCE" who engaged in the several wars of this government. In moving from the old capitol to this one the war records of this office were badly mixed and have never been re-arranged but remain in the boxes in which they were brought from the old capitol and it would be a matter of great labor to go through them and get the information you desire. In fact, I doubt if there is but one man who could get the information you desire, as he is the only man at all familiar with the records. I refer to Mr. W. E. Quillain, former clerk in this office, who, by reason of his long service, is quite familiar with all records. You might correspond with him in regard to the matter; his address is Crew St., Atlanta, Ga.

I regret very much that the limited clerical force of this office renders it impossible to give you the information you desire.

Very respectfully,

EXPLANATORY.

In compiling the foregoing records of the Civil War, these being all that it is possible to obtain at the present time, it has been a matter of no small importance to go over carefully, page by page, more than one hundred volumes, containing from eight hundred to twelve hundred pages each, and gather therefrom these records. Many of the states' records are in such a confused condition that it is impossible to make use of them, while other states are just preparing for publication their roster of soldiers who served in the Confederate Army. Such is the case in South Carolina at this writing. Nevertheless, due diligence has been exercised to secure for the benefit of our readers and the rising generations authentic war records of our forefathers.
