TO ANDREW JACKSON, JR.

Philadelphia, June 10, 1833.

My son, It is now candlelight, and the business of the day has just closed, and dinner is just Eaten. I shall not attempt to describe the feelings of the people, suffice it to say that it surpassed any thing I ever witnessed.

I shall leave here tomorrow at 9 a.m. I have seen Doctor Phisic, who encourages me, and says my heart is not effected in any way, and the pain in the side can be removed by cupping. I sincerely wish my trip was over. except to my Hermitage, or to the watering places, I think it is the last journey, I shall ever undertake. I can say no more at present. Write me occasionally and request Major Lewis to do so like wise, shew him this letter.

Present me kindly, to Sarah, and kiss my little Rachel for me. Present me kindly to Emily and the children, and believe me affectionately Yours

P. S. Mr. Toland will forward the Invoices for Plate etc. etc. etc. furnished, get Major Lewis to get you a check on Philadelphia for the amount and enclose it to him as soon as it reaches you. A. J.
