

James Monroe to Thomas Jefferson, June 7, 1790, from Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe Correspondence,
Transcribed and Edited by Gerard W. Gawalt,
Manuscript Division, Library of Congress

James Monroe to Thomas Jefferson

Fredbg. June 7. 1790.

Dear Sir

I wrote you lately by Judge Wilson whom I accompanied to the circuit court at Charlottesville. I have since been to the chancery wh. clos'd as to business of consequence on Saturday. Our child who hath been dangerously ill hath so far recover'd as to admit of her removal home. We sit out thither tomorrow, where I shall remain until the appeals abt. the 25th.

This will be presented to you by Mr. Garnett a merchant of character & merit, in this town. Whilst a resident here, he was kind & attentive to me, and as a proof of my regard I have taken the liberty to make him known to you. Accept our best wishes for your health & believe me with great respect & esteem yr. affectionate friend & servant, Jas. Monroe

RC (Jefferson Papers, Library of Congress).